

9th ICCG MÉXICO 2023 International Conference of Critical Geographies

“Territorialities in resistance in the face of extractivism:
Geographies from below and on the left”

From the Organising Committee of the 9th International Congress of Critical Geographies, we are circulating our second circular where you will find the application forms for: workshops, field trips, book presentations, film debate and art exhibition. Regarding the presentations, we will publish an exclusive communication in the next few days with information about the themed sessions. We will also announce the registration fees and information on grants; and finally we will share the important dates for our virtual event, which will take place a few days before the face-to-face event.

1. PARTICIPATION MODALITIES

Please see the general description of each modality at the Call for Proposals. Applications should only be made via the following forms; proposals via email or social media will not be considered. We thank you for your understanding and invite you to click on the following links:

- ▶ WORKSHOPS
- ▶ FIELD TRIPS
- ▶ BOOK PRESENTATIONS
- ▶ FILM DEBATE
- ▶ [GRAPHIC AND/OR PLASTIC MATERIAL
FOR EXHIBITION](#)

The deadline for submission to any of the modalities is: 26 March 2023

2. FEES AND SCHOLARSHIPS

We also want to inform you about the REGISTRATION FEES, which are determined by the logic that those who can pay more do so and in this way we can support those who can pay less. That is to say, this scheme of differentiated registration fees is designed to cover the expenses of the organization of the event, as well as to distribute the income of these to the people who need it in the form of a scholarship; in such a way that those people who pay the highest rates have the security that they are making it possible for a person with less financial possibilities to also attend and be part of the execution and debate of the congress.

Based on this analysis that revisits the Human Development Index, adjusted for inequality, we have created two payment categories, depending on the country of origin:

- The Blue category is for those who come from the following countries: Iceland, Norway, Denmark, Switzerland, Finland, Ireland, Sweden, Germany, Netherlands, Slovenia, Australia, Belgium, New Zealand, Canada, Austria, Czech Republic, Japan, Luxembourg, United Kingdom, Malta, South Korea, Estonia, Hong Kong, France, Cyprus, United States.
- And the Green category is for the rest of the countries or territories not recognized as such.

Country of origin	Before July 31	After August 1
Standard Blue countries	280 USD	330 USD
Blue countries* Concessions (students, members of organizations or collectives, members of the organizing committee - including themed session organizers and field trips)	180 USD	230 USD
Standard Green countries	130 USD	180 USD
Blue countries* Concessions (students, members of organizations or collectives, members of the organizing committee - including themed session organizers and field trips)	80 USD	100 USD

Payment includes: participation in the Congress, the kit with its materials, the certificate of participation, food (lunch and snacks) for 5 days, the farewell party, and the field trip.

In addition to the aforementioned discounts, as part of the ICCG philosophy we will offer SCHOLARSHIPS in 4 levels: Full, Medium, Basic and Minimum. Only people whose proposals have been accepted may apply to them, in any of the modalities of participation in the Congress. The call for scholarships opens in May.

For eligibility, the following criteria will be taken into account (the order does not represent priority): 1) Being a woman or a non-binary person, 2) Being a student, 3) Being an activist, having social or community ties, 4) Not having a permanent job 5) Coming from low-income countries, 6) Having functional diversity, 7) Having dependents, 8) Belonging to a native people, 9) Not having institutional support.

3. VIRTUAL EVENT

Due to the concern expressed by several people and despite the facilities and scholarships we will provide, it is not always possible to travel to the venue of the event, so we have decided to hold a virtual forum prior to our Congress in Mexico City. This will take place on October 16 and 17 and will consist only of themed sessions, in which both papers and videos can be presented. There will also be a keynote speech and a closing plenary, all of which will be open to the public. The important dates to keep in mind are:

- Call for papers: 1 May.
- Deadline for receipt of papers or videos: July 1
- Notice of acceptance: 1 August
- Deadline for payment for virtual event registration: 1 September.

Cost: Without concession U$S 50 / With concession U$S 25
